
Our Clients

Almost all of our clients come to us because they are seeking superior design, quality construction, reliable service, honesty, integrity and value for their investment. Some come for the added convenience we provide with Design/Build Plus, our Gridley Perfect Project Process or other aspects of the Gridley Difference. Most of our new clients are referred to us by previous or repeat clients.

Our clients represent a range of budgets. They all believe we can provide them with the best design, quality construction and the most value for their investment. In other words, a great project at a fair price. Some clients with more modest budgets seek us out because we can still deliver quality design, construction and services within their financial comfort range.

Admittedly, the Gridley Company is not for everyone, as we are neither the most nor the least expensive remodeling firm in our area. If minimizing your costs is more important to you than a well-designed project, attentive service and a smooth process, we’re probably not the right company for you.
